New appointment for Nelson Marlborough Health executive leadership team

Nelson Marlborough Health Chief Executive Peter Bramley is pleased to announce the appointment of Lexie O'Shea as General Manager Clinical Services.

Currently the Chief Operating Officer and Deputy CE at Southern DHB, Lexie will start her role at NMH in September.

"Lexie will bring extensive leadership experience and a commitment to clinical partnerships, from her roles across South Island district health boards, to Nelson Marlborough Health," Peter says.

"We're pleased to have someone of Lexie's experience join our organisation and look forward to her contribution as we develop new models of care to support the redevelopment of Nelson Hospital."

Lexie began her career as a medical laboratory technologist, and has held numerous management and leadership roles for Southern DHB, including the significant challenge and responsibility of managing the integration of services provided as Southland and Otago DHBs merged, and overseeing Southern's provider arm since 2012.
